Area 20 NEC Rep Andrew Chadwick and BRC Head Office Executive Laura Sanger have rather gingerly agreed to take part in a tandem parachute jump for two extremely worth while charities. The pair agreed this insane stunt at the National Horse Trials back in August and felt it would be a good challenge to aim for, whilst raising money for two charities which are surely close to many people's hearts.

The jump will take place on Saturday 10th March 2012 in Shropshire, from approximately 10 thousand feet, where they will freefall for 25-30 seconds before the parachute opens at about 5000 feet above the ground.

If you would like to sponsor the pair, you can donate on-line at:

or send a cheque (made payable to: Laura Sanger) to: BRC Head Office.

All donations are extremely gratefully received, and you can see how they get on in the Spring edition of Rider Magazine.
